Our world today is indeed different compared to the time that our fore father's lived. Tall buildings we see each day only shows life's progressive way.

Technologies had truly made our life easier and comfortable. But behind those advantages, there is the so-called disadvantage. Let us face the reality that every inventions, every new things that the people discover to improve our living had lead to the dissonance of our environment. This pollution, floods, global warming and etc. one sign that our mother earth is in need of our help. We need to save her before she just vanishes and despain. So people, lets start it within our own selves, in our own home and in our environment. Let's conserve our nature.
