

How to Save the Environment

Kriselda D. Rico
Bachelor of Science in Nursing
School of Allied Medicine
Universidad de Zamboanga
Zamboanga City, Philippines

To save our environment, first we must be a good role model to our community, family and friends like discipline to ourselves and attitude. When we take good care of our environment, it will also bring us good result.

We can take part in organizations like the United Nations Youth association of the Philippines (UNYAP). This organization has activities that help people how to save the environment such as tree planting activity and many others.

A way to save is by recycling. This became very popular within the last years such as plastic, paper and metals or anything that can be recycled that help them earn money.

Water is the first resources we are wasting up to the present. We must have to be aware everyday that people are dying from lack of potable water. To save water we must not waste it.

Today there are people who continue to cut down trees which causes flood in many areas in the country. Many died when Undoy came.