

“Human Rights”

Jalambo, Rizza A.
School of Allied Medicine
Universidad de Zamboanga
Zamboanga City

Every individual born to have a right, nationality, to be loved and cared, we are created by god on our unique characteristics which made us differ from others, we have the free will to choose of what we wanted to have and to be, it must respected by everyone around us, no one can be the hindrances and will be blocking of every opportunities which destined for us, no one can be treat us as an idiot and showed that we are not belong as one of them.

We have the right to live and enjoyed to continue our journey, we have the free will to have an education, family who love and care us, we have the right to protect from cruelty, violence, we have the right to live in a normal community, we have the right to be valued in our community, every one must give a way of expressing our point of view in regardless with in our community, society and world matter.

Respect is one way of showing and can be lead to develop a peaceful and harmony world. We must respect the will of every individual.