For this time, it is way to far o say that the world is in peace. Many innocent people died because of selfish individuals because of hunger in power. In my opinion, world peace doesn't exist. The more people will be starting of endless desires, the impossible it is to have a world in peace.

And how can we have world peace, when our own country is against it. Let's take for example the war here in Mindanao between MILF and government and the incident happen in Quirino Granstand, the hostage taking of a retired police officer that causes hatred from hongkong citizens to Filipino.

So, I'd say, world Peace is impossible to happen.
