What comes into my mind when I hear the word peace is unity, respectfulness and cooperation between countries. World peace is about engaging with other people for a harmonious living, where there is no war and anything that causes trouble. I can also say that is unity among nations to become strong.

World peace is a condition that exists when a nation or other groups are not fighting. You can also call it a friendly relationship between individuals, untroubled by disputes.

If one wants to have world peace, one must first have peace of mind, because without this, one cannot start a campaign about world peace.
