What is peace for me? Peace is the unity of people, culture, beliefs and respect for each other. For us people, to maintain peace is to maintain development. Every one of us must learn to practice respect, discipline, honesty, love and humility. But these days, peace cannot be easily maintained.

All over the news, we tend to watch and hear about corruptions, murders, war, and all related events. It is almost rare to hear some good news. Every one of us must move or take action to bring about peace. By doing so, it must be influenced in bringing peace. Make peace not war.
