

World Peace

Jenehar O. Ulanghutan
Bachelor of Science in Nursing
School of Allied and Medicine
Universidad de Zamboanga

When you say world peace, it consists of overcoming prejudices and tolerance within the mind and heart of every human being in all nations. Peace is a rare commodity nowadays and this is evident in the dissatisfaction among individuals and the lack of proper understanding between individuals coming from different nations.

Some people become easily confused, violent when under pressure and later ask why they have harmed the people around them. We must be aware of the quote that states, "Peace must begin from each of us."

In a culture of peace, power would be derived from collective capabilities and responsibilities legally, politically, socially and morally. Power must be equally shared between man and women.

If there is light in the soul, there will be beauty in the person. If there is beauty in the person there will be harmony in the house. If there is harmony in the house, there will be order in the nation. If there is order in the nation, there will be peace in the whole world.