All of us have our rights. The right to decide to our own, to choose a good leader, and to be treated well by others. That's what they call human rights. We should be aware of that. Why? Because maybe other will do anything that is not good or they may us. Especially to the children who really don't know about that.

Having human rights is very helpful. Because people will really respect each other. They will never harm you. You may poor or rich you will always be treated very well. Because we are all human who want to feel that we are understand and respect by others. Maybe if we don't have human rights someone will take an advantage and do something that can bring us to disaster. And they may have the freedom to hurt us or even kill us. Especially now a lot of children that been rape or hurt or control with other people or ever their parents.

We should fight for our right. Because it is our dignity that been destroy by others.
