Each individual who was born in this world was given all the rights, Right to express their ideas, to live in a peaceful environment and to choose what life he/she wants to have. This right is considered as the wealth of each individual that one could deprive from her/him. This right should be protected and be clearly understood by its beholder.

This right stated such meaning to individual, where we as human being has the right to be his/her own and right to do what we really wanted. No one can dictate to all the things and all the plans what you are going to do, human rights simplified of respecting one another's decision and prediction of their life which they thought that those things are good.
