To here in Philippines all of us we experiment the injustice treated by other people especially in our government all of us have a right to decide and give justice. Most especially experienced the injustice the poor people who live in squatter who do not have their own lot, house and money, even though they are poor they should have also what we call the human right. We should give to them the freedom.

We must solve this kind of problem especially working in the government like our president he should treat us fairly and give freedom to those poor people. He should do something to solve this kind of problem to be able to live peacefully not only the government employee will survive but also those who are unemployed individuals.
