Extreme profession of my age is being a student. Just like you, I am also encountering such risk as this. As I have done from my first experienced in school. I can precisely say that education is not as easy as tearing a paper, perhaps after family, education must be in my top two priorities.

Now I am eighteen, I have almost gone through what most students go through. But some of us lead ourselves to the dashing way. Don't you know that your parents are striving hard just to pay your tuitions in school? Aren't you aware that they probably don't eat their proper meal for you children would be able to fit well in health? But look you are whom pushing yourselves down never mind your parent's efforts that used to raise you up.

Education is education. We need it now and tomorrow we must feed ourselves with it. Our life needs education, education needs our lives too. Hear the voices over our education then expect for education will pull us to it and lead us for our bright future.
