Military Police abuse basically these are abuses perpetuated by law enforcers. Law enforcers here in the Philippines are known with this kind of conduct. They just simply think that they are law enforcers they can do whatever they want. Such as and to the extent they violate the rights of individuals. This is stipulated in the Philippine Constitution especially Article 3 “The Bill of Rights”.

Furthermore abuses of military and police are very visible or direct observable in every corner of the Philippines which creates negative impressions on both organizations. Statistically speaking many of us do not really believe in justice imposed by law enforcers. It is as to the fact that they are destroying their names and as well as name of their organization.

In line with this how can they impose justice in the community if they are the one practicing injustices things and how can community members incorporate justice deep within them if they know to their mind that law enforcers could hardly abide justice.

Beyond that they pledge to this country that they will abide justice and protect at all cost, in terms of national emergency situations. The bottom line of every constituent, it's just because we are brothers by blood and brothers under the same God.
