

HUMAN RIGHTS ACCORDING TO EDUCATION

Manubay, Myrtel B.

BSBA

College of Business Management

Universidad de Zamboanga

Zamboanga City, Philippines

As an individual in this country has the right to enroll at school to be able for us to learn and develop the knowledge, skills, and ability. Every individual, irrespective of race, gender, nationality, ethnic or social origin, religion or political preference, age or disability had the right to go school.

Some of our countrymen send their children at public school for them to afford the needs and wants of their children.

The government should give a fair treatment to individual students and teacher's and also to give much attention to the different schools. Specially, to the public school to be able for us to become educated person and Education is the key to economic development.