

HUMAN RIGHTS EMPLOYMENT

Santos, Felgin P.

BSBA

Universidad de Zamboanga
Zamboanga City, Philippines

As a human being in our country every Filipino people human rights for employment. Everyone is entitled to a fair public hearing within reasonable time by an independent and impartial tribunal. Filipino employee has the right to complain about the salaries, benefits, wages and other things that connected with that matter. And legally not to avoid the thirteen months and separation fees in every year.

Employees have the right to know the opportunities work overseas, to have their experiences and have a low placement fee. But sometimes some illegal recruiters are appearing just to have illegal money from the innocent applicant. We have the right to know how to avoid those illegal recruiters. We have the right and to require to receive or need to pay for us per hour and to have rest day once a week. Have the right to pay to employee a double pay in every holiday and social day. to have the right to receive benefits especially our health benefits.