

“Human Rights”

Torres, Rialyn P.
School of Allied Medicine
Universidad de Zamboanga
Zamboanga City

Human rights it is important for student to have an integral understanding of human rights and to reject all forms of perception and discrimination based on belief, race, ethnical, gender and social crisis. They should be encourage to respect the dignity of all especially the weak and powerless.

As a human being we all have the rights to do what we are wanted to do and nobody can be dictated us because we have all the rights to do something we want it. Every one of us have their own better based on their culture so, whatever belief they have we should accept them and respect. We can't stop them if that's their own belief. Even though the person is poor we should also respect their dignity infact, even you are rich or poor all of us have the same rights as a human being.