“You cannot shake hands with a clenched fist,” A famous quote from Indira Gandhi. One of the most controversial issues around the world today is about peace. Even they, you and I wanted peace. But how come every time we hear the word peace, we just tend to disregard it and as if we don't care about it at all. That's why every now and then we are longing for peace, and that's why people around the world don't become united.

Peace and unity are two of the most essential things that would solve those problems why there is war, corruption, problems about relationships, about business and others. We can't be united if there's no peace. Even leaders in the society cannot maintain peace and order. Why? Because they themselves don't know what peace really is. They just utter the words, “Peace is the only way to success. “ That's definitely true! But how come we are still not moving up? Because they can't still get over their love of power instead of replacing it with power of love.

Now you know that peace is really that important. Do you still want to see blood scattered everywhere? Do you still want irresponsible leaders? Do you still want to have good relationships towards other people? Or as simple as, do you still want peace? I'll tell you that you can still have PEACE if you start applying it most especially to yourself today.
