

WORLD PEACE

By: Husien, Sheena kausar J.

Bsrt-1

School of Allied medicine

Universidad de Zamboanga

Zamboanga city

It is important to us people to have peace on earth, we live together in one world so we should give peace and love to one another, helping the world to have peace let us be friendly to our neighbor, classmates and to the people surrounds us...help one another and learn to give and take to yourself, so that we can understand each other no matter what, every mankind have different attitude.

We must also learn how to share and give care to one another, sharing one's things to the poor people makes them happy although even now world is sometimes a treat of trouble we must still maintain the peace in ourselves, understand and give a big patience. . . so that the small problem wouldn't become a big problem anymore. If I were to ask? The things I can help to maintain peace in our world is to have patience, give care to others and be friendly to our environment, learn to forgive your enemy and love the people that surrounds you.