We can prove the power of faith and love to make our enemies our friends. so let there be Peace on Earth and let it We have a wonderful planet full of resources both natural and human which can provide richness to everyone on earth. But we always have problems not with nature but with human beings who love war, greed and hunger for power.As Erbie Fabian says that if we can make friends then why be an enemy? if we can be part of the solution then why be a problem?.

Its24 more days before Christmas. It's the time of gift giving and loving one another. We are reminded of the angels that announced the birth of Jesus as the song goes. "Hark the Herald angel sing... Peace on earth..goodwill to men. All over the world people of different creeds and cultures have one thing in common-seeking to know and practice the way of peace. They may have different views but only one goal to be peacemakers. It is time for the peacemakers to unite all the actions that promote peace. We can end Earth's long history of settling differences by killing and hating our enemies our friends. So let there be peace on earth. And let itbegin with me...
