PEACE

For us to have peace we need to love one another, we need to understand each to avoid conflicts, avoid doing things that will harm other people, which will cause arguments or conflicts. We also need to accept the difference of others. Accept the difference of our beliefs for us to have peace. Do not start any none sense arguments, we need to help one another. And the most important of all is Love, Love each other, share Love and give Love to the people around you. For I believe that if there is Love there is PEACE.
