

“The Human’s Natural Environment”

Mami, Al-rasher Allani

School of Allied and Medicine

Universidad de Zamboanga

Zamboanga City, Phil

God give us everything that we human must treasure and preserve. Our environment is a special area or place that is perfectly made by god for his creatures especially to humans.

Our environment reflects our personality, they say that, at the early times people live peacefully in every part of this world, and it is said that people at that time exist longer in this world than the people of today. At that time, a person unites in caring and preserving our natural human environment. But it was been destructed not by any foreign creatures but by us human. We throw our garbage anywhere as if it will not return you us, we roam around the city with our car that produces strokes, we burn everything we want to, we just do everything we want without even worrying about our environment.

Don’t we know that our environment is just like us? If there are natural phenomenon like typhoon and global warming.