

WORLD PEACE
Hassan, Abubakar S.
BS Respiratory Therapy
Universidad de Zamboanga
Zamboanga City, Philippines

A world peace is one of harmonious and wonderful event that occur in life of human being. It is known as an international peace that all over the world, human being concerned with this phenomena. We can promote a world peace through each other especially our good behaviors. Peace can promote through our good deeds in ourselves and to the other people, and by helping each other in the pleasure cooperation can gradually in the world and our well being personality. Through peace we can achieves our knowledge, naturalist, health, happiness, and longevity.

For me although it is hard or impossible for us to have a world peace, we must not be hopeless. It must begin within us to have peace until the world progress to have peace. We achieve and to improve world peace to accepting or include everyone inters of races, religion nation and gender. In terms of races we must not choosing or selecting a kind of races of people though they belong to the lower class of races for we to improve peace accept any individual treat well and respect them in a good way and as precious gold, in terms of religion we must not argue with other religion cause we own our religions we claim that we have our own rights but for the sake of world peace let us devoid that can ruin in these cases we united collaborated in good deeds to have peaceful in our lives in terms of nation we must league the so called nation to promote peace, freedom, dignity and the absent of war and in terms of gender whatever genders o human being we must warmly accepted them for we to have peace