We people are considered to be a big part of the environment where we belong. Environment differ from each other, that means like the environment of the rich country are not the same with the poor ones. The rural is also different from the urban place. We must take good care of our environment and use it in the right manner for it not to be destroyed. Our forest is also a huge part of our environment. And when we know how to take care of it, it would make our lives easy as it can give us fresh air and lovely views. Our behaviors and attitudes are based on what particular environment we belong to. Like rich people are not too noisy because the environment of them on their home is silent, not like in the squatter areas, it is so noisy so people may bring their noisy attitudes anywhere they will go.

We must not destroy our own environment because it's a gift from God for us people.
