Environment is very important for us because in our surroundings, we can be influenced by others whether it is good or bad because we are trying to adopt in ourselves what we see around us. For example, if we should not throw our garbage's everywhere we want, we should look for a trash can or we can put it in our pockets. Another is dynamite fishing, there are many people who do this but they do not know that it can affect our environment, many fishes will die and many coral reefs will be destroyed by throwing dynamites in the ocean. There will be no place for the fish to live, so we should take care.

We can also adopt fashion from other countries like the k-pop fashion they are adopting instead of using our own fashion. Another is technology helps to communicate to other people but then it is good for some reason but not all the time. So we must be aware of what we see around us because not all we see are good for us and for our country.

As I observe now our environment is not doing good because of the technology we have now. Like the factories, the vehicles that can destroy our surroundings. It can cause or affect the environment causes of pollution and it may destroy the "ozone layer" which will cause "greenhouse effect". Our environment now needs to be built or help in making our place back to its normal condition so that we cannot feel the poverty. We need to plant more "trees" to avoid the landslide and other tragedy to prevent flood so that it would not be difficult for us in preventing from sickness and diseases.

Nowadays, few from our fellowmen have already started to have peaceful surroundings like; planting trees and cleaning the surroundings which will bring to us a good health and a healthy lifestyle. One of the examples for this is "the Ilog Pasig River" which hundreds of thousands of our countrymen contribute & cooperate in making it clean and back to its normal condition.

I hope that it is the first way in building again our environment back to its peacefulness w/c we need in our country & in the world.

Environment is one that we should give care and value because once the environment is being broken or full of bad things it would affect the people who stay there especially to the new generation. The government should focus to prevent the bad habit of the people, and also the people should cooperate and follow the rules of the government so that our countries have peace and development. Now a day's our environment is not good because most of the people now they do not follow the rules of the government they are doing illegal things, if the environment is so good full of beauty then the people in this world have peace of mind not only to the people but to the living things also, everyone of us should give respect to our country especially throwing of garbage everywhere we must train ourselves to do good things and discipline not only to the human being but to all living in this world especially to the new generation now we should teach them how to discipline our environment and discipline themselves.

Always think whenever you are going to throw something on the ground, that there are people who are living in a dump and you are one of the people who are making it worse. You do not want to live in place where there is little water and not enough food you will hate it. So, whenever somebody asks you what is environment always say what you think is right and think about not yourself, but people around you and also people who are living today without sample water or food. Environment is a big issue still today and it is getting worse every second of the day, so please think about those people in need. You might think 'oh what's the point they're not really poor but go visit them and see what it likes is to live in a dump and or without food or water.

Environment comprises of living things and non-living things, it's one of the most Gods' gracious gifts to us, and environment is where we get our daily needs. But today the environment is slowly being destroyed, it's being overused and abused by the people, are we not aware of the things that is happening to the world or we are just blinded by our desires.

The world today is experiencing a lot of phenomenon such as global warming. These things will not happen if only we have take good care of our environment since from the start. Our environment was once clean way back billion of years ago, when there is still no human living in the earth and the civilization and urbanization is not yet begun to emerge. The environment has begun to destroy when the human civilization has arisen and from the time the World War II has begun. The world war has brought a big destruction to our environment, the natural resources has been destroyed by the bombing, a lot of living things is been killed. The technologies that scientist has been discovered also brought destruction to our environment, the use of air-condition, the use of vehicles and others has produced air pollution to the environment, the emerging of factories and using of plastic, throwing of garbage has also brought land and water pollution to the environment. The illegal loggers have also begun to emerge which cuts trees of our forest and some used the forest for housing projects. The cutting of trees has caused us flashed floods the pollution have brought diseases to humanism. The environment is over used and being abused by the human, they are not thinking of the things that might happen to our environment; they don't care of it as long as they become rich and they can get whatever they want. The environment has already spoken, she wants us to pay from all the things we have done and realize that it is time to stop those nasty things we are doing and open our eyes from the reality that the world has begun to destruct.

Environment is god's creation and we are steward of it. Lets us change our bad doings that destroys the environment and lets us realized that it's our time to help the environment and bring it back the way it was. Let's put our hand together to help preserved our environment for the next generation.
