

Human Rights

Sarah Afif

School of Allied Medicine
Universidad de Zamboanga
Zamboanga City, Philippines

Every human being have their own Human Rights, it includes rights to be a good citizen, rights to have their formal education, rights to have a good job, rights to be their own self, and rights to do their own decision and etc.

Today, we Filipino Citizen practice Democracy, our rights for freedom and to speak out, but do all of us have our own freedom? No, because many of us, fellow Filipino suffer due to human trafficking and many more, especially children, their lights to have their formal education, proper home, love, playtime and many more are not given to them, they are working, sometimes by force, their youth are taken from them. For Senior Citizens, I always see many senior citizens in the street, no proper home, no proper food, is it right? They should be taken care of, if not their family then the group which the government assigned too. Our human rights should be practice because if not, more and more people will suffer while few are only happy.

We should move many before tried to solve the problem about it, and we can help, even a little bit because we are nation and we should help each other.

Human Rights help a person to fight for their rights, and stop that who wants to abuse, that's why let's make Human Rights possible for every human.