

Peace

Absar A. Jalani
School of Allied Medicine
Universidad de Zamboanga
Zamboanga City, Philippines

Peace is the mother nature of progress. Without peace a nation cannot progress. Peace is ever desirable but if there will be no peace the whole human race may not thrive for long. War should always be avoided as much as possible especially nowadays where modern war involves atomic bombs and hydrogen bomb that could destroy the environment.

Chances are....the entire world will be doomed without people like us who care about peace.

Said Nurhina
Philo2

The human right issues regarding abuses of individual and groups
The human condition depends on make them fob security, level of education and degree of health of people, individual or collectively, there is also a range of right having to do with the treatment of specific groups or individual within a society, whether domestic or global, that are subject to abuse some legal scholar Distinguish between two type of such right. civil right include positive requirements Or governments to insure that all people nab in the country” the equal protection of The laws” is a quintessential statements of civil right. are those things which the government or should not be able to prevent in individual or group from doing,freebom or religion.

Human Right Abuse:
Intolerance and the abuse hat stem from are ancient and persistent
They are global nab demographically diverse.

8

Environment is a complex of external factors that act an a system
And determines its cause and form of existence. an environment
Maybe thought of which the given system is a subset and environment
Also given of system.