Now is humanity's greatest opportunity. The circumstances are right for an all-out World Peace Blitz that will end the human family's long history of war and violence -- by eliminating its causes.

We have an amazing planet with a skin of life that can provide a good life for everyone. Our problem is not the nature of Planet Earth, but the nature of its human inhabitants, who throughout history have been addicted to war, greed and lust for power. Instead of making skeletons of our enemies, now we can make them our friends.
