

World Peace

Paul Angelo Salonga
School of Allied Medicine
Universidad de Zamboanga
Zamboanga City, Philippines

World peace is a goal that many people have dedicated their life to without ever seeing the day when there is peace in all corners of the world. There has been a great deal of progress, however, and that keeps those looking for peace on earth hopeful. World peace may never come in your lifetime, but pushing the goal further along is a noble pursuit that many people have decided is the mission of their life. Take a look through history and study all the peacemakers that have come before you in the pursuit of a peaceful world. These historic figures never seemed to doubt for a minute that peace on earth was possible. Their constant struggle for world peace seems to have been a single minded pursuit. But the further you study; you will most likely discover that even the most fervent pursuers of peace had their doubts. The difference in these people is that they did not let their personal doubt deter them from their goal. They ultimately believed that peace on earth or world peace was such a worthy pursuit that doubt had to be pushed aside.

If you are involved in the peace movement and are experiencing doubts about the possibility of peace on earth, you should remember that your doubt is perfectly natural. If your goal is world peace, you will have to struggle every minute to keep that goal firmly planted in your mind. The horrific things that man can do to his fellow man is enough to discourage even the most dedicated peace activist, but take your strength from those that have gone before you. Peace on earth and world peace is closer than it ever has been in the history of the world and that is a direct result of those that have made this their lifelong goal.

It can be helpful to keep yourself in the company of those who share your peace on earth goals. When you spend time with those who have world peace as their life goal in the same way that you do, it can give you a great deal of comfort and encouragement. Look for some groups in your area that will help you to handle your peace on earth activities. World peace organizations can be a great source of comfort as well.

Continue to work on your goals with dedication and purpose. You will be doing your part to further peace on earth in your lifetime. World peace will come in increments and every person who has been a part of the movement has played his or her part. A noble pursuit is one that may never see the ultimate satisfaction in one lifetime. It will take the strength of thousands of men to move a whole world to peace on earth. You will be doing your part to push that wall further and further down the road to world peace.