Right to be love and treated well

To find someone who love and respect and treat you well.

Right to live

Abortion is now one of the problems in our society, especially those teenagers and still studying. Just commit abortion because they cannot afford to build a family with their innocent age. So sometimes in daily news fetus are found everywhere. The doers of this didn't think how important life is. The child that they abort has a right to live and have the right to see how beautiful the world is.

Right to love

Right to choose a guy that deserves me. And most of all to love me back the way I love him.

Right to enjoy

Live your life to the fullest because happiness is the key to success. And perhaps only happiness is the best thing that you can bring everywhere you are and share it in your inheritance.

Right to depend your self

No one is perfect, so everybody commit mistakes and not all mistakes are done intentionally, especially if you have a valid reason to do it. So everybody have a right to depend their self as long as they believe that they are right.
