Peace is start from our self, every one of us are need peace in our heart, mind and also in our country. We should love our neighbors to attain peace in our place. Peace came from the word love , care and respect to one another, but without peace we cannot attain freedom. Peace is harmony, to avoid trouble we should have patience in our self.

But how to promote peace and show it to other people? Its just simple by showing care, respect, and love to other. Misunderstanding started between the people because of the lack of knowledge what are people about and what peace can affect our lives.

In summary peace is just by showing care, love and understanding to one another, to understand is to avoid any conflict with us.
