

WORLD PEACE

Gizelle Angeli-Mae R. Angeles
School of Allied Medicine
Universidad de Zamboanga
Zamboanga City, Philippines

When I was little, I used to describe this world as lovely and beautiful as what I always see and feel. The cleanliness and peace and order in the province where I grew up made me think and feel that this is a “perfect world”, a world where there is no hatred and violence. But later on, when the world removed my innocence, I saw the bad side that this world has. Suicide bombings, murders, kidnap for ransom and so much more incidents that ruined the “perfectness” of this world. I hope that one day, we’ll have that we all aim for.