World peace, it is a dream that each one of us are seeking. A kind of aspiration or aim that we all wanted to happened in our world. There are many ways in accomplishing world peace, as a different kind of religion sees it. For me as a Muslim, we do believe that to get world peace we must have faith in only one god which is Allah.

In having a one leader or ruler is the best way for all of us to unite and understand each other. The world peace we aim is maybe will be the fulfillment and contentment we could experience to happened in our life. It is also a reason why we all need a leader that will lead us to achieve all of this, that's why also their some people choose to become a terrorist because they were hungry for peace.
